

ANC is not just a newsprint company anymore. Over the last number of years, we have invested heavily in our production site to diversify and serve additional markets. ANC is widely recognized as the highest quality newsprint producer in North America and that reputation will now carry over in to a group of newly developed products.

We have developed both heavy weight and light weight high bright grades ranging from 63 to 70 brightness that are optimal for retailers and publishers who are interested in reducing costs while demanding excellent printability.

ANC's continuous investment in the printing and writing sector is second to none and is a further example of our commitment to paper, print and the customers we serve.
